College and Community Health Centre Re-Opening

GRANDE PRAIRIE — The College and Community Health Centre located on the campus of Grande Prairie Regional College will re-open effective July 26, 2010. Interior building repairs and renovations are complete and clinic services will resume at the Health Centre.

Some work on the outside of the building still needs to be completed, but access and use of the clinic is not impacted.

Please note laboratory and diagnostic imaging services, including X-rays, won't be available at the College and Community Health Centre when it re-opens on July 26, 2010. Those services will be available at other sites in the community such as the QEII Hospital, Junction Point Laboratory and Peace Diagnostic Imaging.

X-ray service will be available at the Clinic again beginning August 3, and lab service will resume at the Clinic on September 7.

Thank you for your cooperation during the repair and renovation work.
