

Seniors' Health, Strategic Clinical Networks Community of Practice

What is the Community of Practice?

The Seniors' Health Strategic Clinical Network community of practice is a network of people who are passionate and knowledgeable about senior's health, with backgrounds that range from Clinicians, Social Workers and Nurses, to Therapists, Physicians, Pharmacists and more.

The engagement, involvement and participation of the members drive the work of the Seniors' Health Strategic Clinical Network by providing ideas, suggestions and sharing your experiences and expertise.

Some of the recent work of the Seniors' Health Strategic Clinical Network includes the Appropriate Use of Antipsychotics in Long Term Care initiative, the implementation of Dementia Advice and supporting Alberta Health with a strategic planning initiative aimed at improving dementia care in the province. These initiatives were supported by our Community of Practice members.

How can you get involved?

In joining the Community of Practice, you choose your level involvement, which can range from receiving newsletters, on our work and/or notifications of teleconferences and webinars through to active participation on working groups and committees. You determine your time commitment and involvement in the Strategic Clinical Network work.

If you would like to join the Community of Practice, please contact us at seniorshealth.scn@ahs.ca.

Would you like to know more?

Please visit our website at (<http://www.albertahealthservices.ca/scns/Page7702.aspx>).

There are a variety of resources that you can view that will help you understand the scope of our work.