Suzette Brémault-Phillips, PhD, MA, BMR (OT), BSc

- Assistant Professor, Faculty of Rehabilitation Medicine, Department of Occupational Therapy, University of Alberta
- Research Affiliate, Glenrose Rehabilitation Hospital

Dr. Brémault-Phillips' research focus is on the implementation of best practices regarding both decision-making capacity assessments (DMCAs) and the management of responsive behaviours from a person-centered perspective, complex needs, mental health and addictions, aging, mental and spiritual resilience (military, families, caregivers, students) and caregiver supports.

Dr. Brémault-Phillips is currently working on "Spreading and Sustaining the Decision-Making Capacity Assessment (DMCA) Model: Development and Evaluation of a DMCA Model Implementation and Sustainability Framework" study as well as "Managing Responsive Aggressive Behaviours: Implementing and Evaluating a Capacity Building Process".

Future directions include continued research regarding complex needs (DMCAs and the management of responsive behaviours), community engaged scholarship, implementation science, capacity building and spiritual resilience in military personnel.

Clinical Implications of Research

Enhanced provision of person and family centered care, capacity of care providers to conduct DMCA's, manage responsive behaviours, conduct spiritual assessments, and system capacity to successfully implement best practice processes that are aligned with legislation (e.g. Adult Guardian and Trusteeship Act Bill C-14 Medical Assistance in Dying) or provincial standards, strategies and action plans (e.g. Dementia Strategy and Action Plan, Valuing Mental Health, Canadian Army Integrated Performance Strategy).

Vision Statement

To facilitate community engaged scholarship that supports "reciprocal, mutually beneficial learning experiences, research projects, partnerships and collaborations" with clinicians, researchers, caregivers, clients, policy and decision-makers) to address key priority research and practice issues in mental and spiritual health.
