Connect Care Update

Preparing for Wave 2

Connect Care will be introduced in a series of phases, called “waves”. The second wave, including select sites in the Calgary and Central Zones, is now a year away from its launch date and preparations are underway. Last week, leaders and physicians from the Wave 2 Calgary Zone sites gathered at the Cochrane Community Health Centre for a Leader Orientation.

At the event, participants learned about Connect Care and the supports and training available as they implement the program. Interactive system displays and device demonstrations were available for attendees to get a close-up view of the system and to experience what using it is like. In the afternoon, physicians were given a demo of the system, including a “day in the life of a physician” presented by Dr. Robert Hayward, Chief Medical Information Officer, which demonstrated how physicians would use the system once it is in place next year.

A recording of the presentations will be available on Insite soon.
