The COVID-19 pandemic further highlighted the importance of hand hygiene in preventing the spread of microorganisms. Some sites in Calgary Zone have developed creative ways to continue to promote proper hand hygiene practices and increase awareness. As an example, representatives from the Peter Lougheed Centre Hand Hygiene Committee visited units throughout the year with a Glo Germ™ kit – a visual tool using powder (or gel) and an ultra-violet light – for teaching proper handwashing techniques. There were prizes for the unit that collected the highest number of hand hygiene observations, the unit with the most participants using the Glo Germ™ kit, and the unit that had the least amount of clutter.
