

Free Food in Alberta Directories

Frequently Asked Questions

1. What are the Free Food in Alberta Directories?

The Free Food in Alberta Directories list information about where to find free food including food banks, food hampers, and free meals. The information is found under directories section of InformAlberta.ca.

2. How were the Free Food in Alberta Directories developed?

The Free Food in Alberta Directories were developed by registered dietitians in Alberta Health Services Nutrition Services (NS) in partnership with InformAlberta, 211 Alberta and Health Link. NS dietitians conducted stakeholder consultations and contacted eligible agencies to determine their interest in being included in the directories. The project purpose was to establish a sustainable approach to connect individuals, families, community agencies and health professionals to information about free food programs in Alberta.

3. I don't see the food bank, food hamper, or free meal program in my community. Why is the program not included?

There are multiple reasons an agency may not be listed in the Free Food in Alberta Directories. These include:

Agency declined to be included

The most common reason given for declining inclusion was current demand already exceeding available resources. Other reasons were agencies being uncertain of program continuation and not wanting to further advertise their programs.

Unable to contact

Agencies were contacted a minimum of three times and voicemails were left when possible. These agencies are still eligible to be included should they express interest in the future.

Did not return application

Contact was made with the agency and they agreed to be included, however at this time have not returned their application for inclusion. Two reminder emails were sent. These agencies are still eligible for inclusion when their applications are received.

Does not meet inclusion criteria

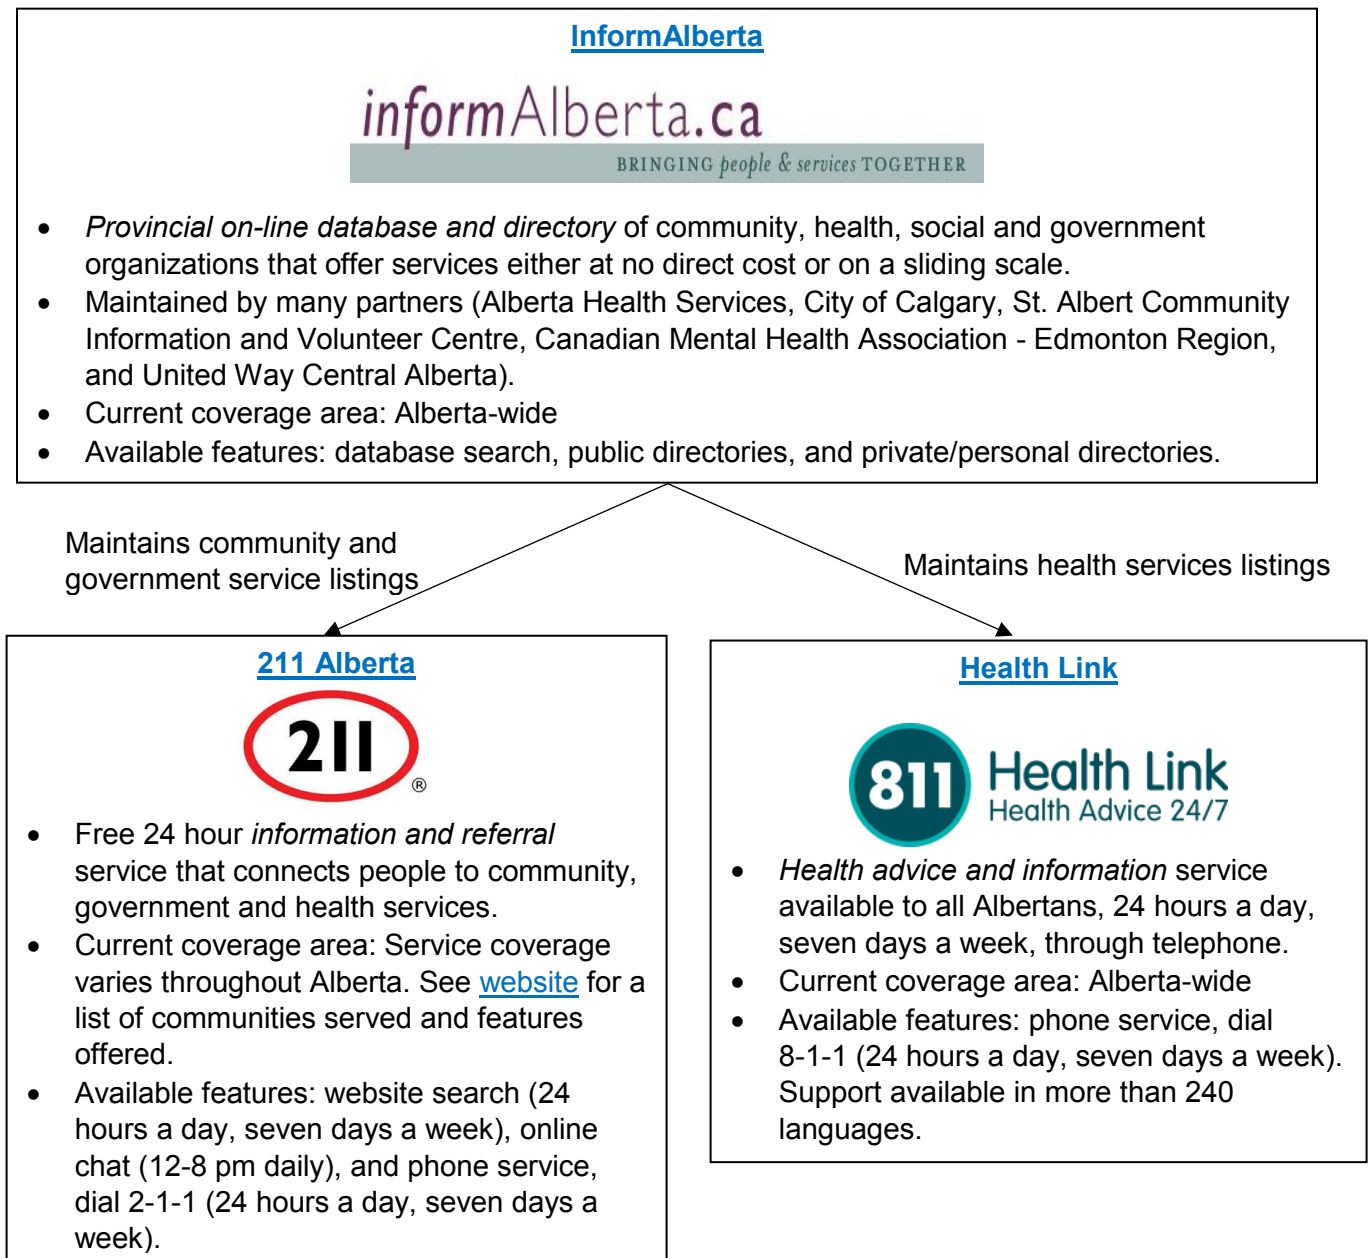

To meet the inclusion criteria, organization and services have to be publicly funded and/or not-for-profit, must not require a membership, be open to the general public and directly provide free food services (not referral services). An example of a program that does not meet the inclusion criteria would be a school breakfast program.

4. How can food programs or agencies be added on to the Free Food in Alberta Directories?

The food program or agency can contact the 211 Community Resource Department at 780-392-8722 or database@ab.211.ca. It's free.

5. What is InformAlberta, 211 Alberta, and Health Link?

InformAlberta is a collaborative database used by 211 Alberta and Health Link.

6. I found another food directory on InformAlberta.ca. What's the difference between this one and the Free Food in Alberta Directories?

Other food directories on InformAlberta are created and maintained by InformAlberta's community partners (e.g. City of Calgary, United Way Central Alberta, etc.). They may have a different scope and purpose than the Free Food in Alberta Directories. Alberta Health Services Nutrition Services created the Free Food in Alberta Directories and will maintain the directories in partnership with Health Link and 211 Alberta going forward.
