Malnutrition in Alberta

Malnutrition happens when you don't get enough food and nutrition. This may be from a poor appetite, or when you need more nutrition than you can eat or drink.

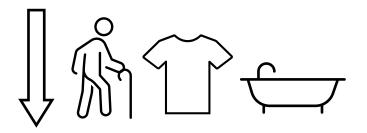

Malnutrition can affect all:

- people
- ages
- body sizes

Malnutrition can lead to a decline in health and strength. It may be harder to do things for yourself.

You may get too weak to walk, dress, and bathe by yourself.

What increases risk?

Having one or more of the following can increase your risk of malnutrition.

Lifestyle and emotional:

- grief and loss
- loneliness and social isolation
- lack of knowledge or low interest in food, cooking, and nutrition
- low income and limited access to food

Medical:

- anxiety and depression
- chronic illnesses such as cancer, diabetes, Parkinson's disease
- confusion
- dental problems
- losing weight without trying to
- loss of taste and smell
- medication side effects
- physical disability, such as arthritis or poor mobility
- poor appetite
- swallowing difficulty

Research shows

In Alberta

When coming to the hospital:

1 in 3 children have malnutrition

1 in 2 adults have malnutrition

In hospital:

Adults and children stay about 3 days longer when they have malnutrition

In Canada

Adults and children who come to hospital wellnourished, may become malnourished while in hospital.

People who are malnourished have a higher risk of infection.

In hospital

The risk of malnutrition starting or getting worse can occur from not eating enough or not getting enough nutrition. Not getting enough nutrition can be due to:

- needing more nutrition than usual
- feeling sick, tired, or in pain
- being hungry between meals
- not having access to food between meals
- not liking the look, smell, or taste of the food offered
- · not wanting the food that is offered

Talk to your healthcare team if you find that you cannot eat all your meals or if you would like more food.

To learn more

- Talk to your healthcare team.
- Call Health Link at 811 and ask to talk to a dietitian or complete a self-referral form on ahs.ca/811.
- Visit ahs.ca/Nutrition or ahs.ca/NutritionScreening.

Malnutrition in Alberta Page 2 of 2 (Feb 2023)