

COVID-19 Communication-Friendly Vaccine Consent

Instructions

This vaccine consent tool will help you ask questions and provide responses to clients who present with a speech, language or hearing disorder.

The tool includes questions and responses for:

- eligibility and recommendations
- side effects
- already vaccinated
- consent to be vaccinated

How to use the tool:

- Use a piece of paper to show/ask 1 question at a time
- Point to the pictures as you talk
- Allow clients to show you or point to 'yes', 'no' or 'I don't know' to answer
- If the person cannot speak or physically point, you can ask them "Show me how you say 'Yes'" or "Show me how you say 'no'".

If you need to communicate about a topic that is not pictured in this tool, consider:

- Providing the person a pen and paper to allow them to write or draw
- Use a pen and paper yourself to write key words or draw as you talk
- Gesture or show images as you talk

Signs a person may have a communication need

They may:

- Hesitate, respond in ways that don't make sense, or don't respond at all.
- Have difficulty following your directions.
- Frequently ask you to repeat yourself or to speak louder.
- Wear hearing aids or use communication devices to help them speak
- Use sign language or gesture as they talk.

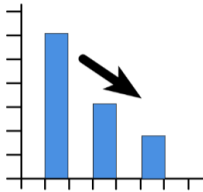

NOTE:

It's also possible the person speaks a different language or uses sign language and needs help from an interpreter. In this case, make sure to contact AHS interpretation and translation services. For an American Sign Language Interpreter call 1-866-471-2805.
