Anyone who enters a facility risks bringing COVID-19 in or out with them. The more people who enter, the higher that risk becomes.

To reduce the risk, designated support persons, patients, residents, staff and physicians need to work together.

Your role is essential, but may not always need to be in person. Before coming to a site, please consider:

- If the patient’s or resident’s needs can be met without you being on site; can you connect virtually instead?
- If you are going to come, when is the best time for you to be at the facility; how often and for how long?
- Can you reduce how often and how long you visit?
- Can someone else be the designated support person?

A patient’s or resident’s designated support person can be a:
- Relative, intimate partner or close friend
- Legal guardian
- Formal or informal caregiver.

You play a role in the safety, health and recovery of a patient or resident as someone they:
- Identify as important to support their well-being.
- Want involved in their health matters.

To reduce the spread of COVID-19, Alberta Health Services has limited the number of people entering our facilities. AHS may change designated support access on short notice. Connect with your healthcare team to determine current guidelines.

Designated support persons assist with:
- Providing information to the healthcare team about a patient or resident.
- Supporting the mental well-being of a patient or resident.
- A patient’s or resident’s feeding and mobility.
- Personal care such as hygiene, laundry and needed belongings.
- Communicating for a patient or resident with hearing, visual, speech, cognitive, intellectual or memory impairments.
- A patient’s or resident’s physical disabilities.
- Helping regulate emotions and behaviours.
- Making care decisions, transitions and plans.

To protect yourself and your loved one while inside a facility, we need you to:
- Complete a health screening when entering the site, including reporting if you have:
  - A fever, cough, shortness of breath, sore throat or runny nose
  - Tested positive for COVID-19 in the past 14 days or
  - Been tested for COVID-19 and are waiting for results.
- Follow all precautions as instructed by staff and physicians.
- Always wear the mask provided at the site over your nose and mouth.
- Minimize where you go.
- Wash or sanitize your hands when coming into or leaving the site and a patient’s room, and when putting on or taking off your mask.
- Wear family/support identification label.

If you have questions or concerns, please speak with any member of your healthcare team.
