Whether testing is positive or negative, caregivers need to make sure they follow the Alberta government's guidelines.

Testing:

If you have no symptoms, can you test positive?

- A negative test does not guarantee protection from the virus.

People who don't show symptoms can also spread the virus. Why not test everyone?

- Continued Care Homes and long-term care facilities are also affected.

How contagious can an asymptomatic person be? (How contagious can an asymptomatic person be?)

- If you had initially tested negative but suddenly developed light symptoms like a feverish sensation and/or running nose and/or have been asked to be retested but now you feel better. Is it safe to return to work?

- People who don't show symptoms can also spread the virus. Why not test everyone?
