Canadian Foundation for Healthcare Improvement

Fondation canadienne pour l'amélioration des services de santé

The Canadian Foundation for Healthcare Improvement (CFHI) identifies proven healthcare innovations and accelerates their spread across Canada by helping organizations adapt, implement and measure solutions that improve the patient experience and healthcare outcomes. We unleash innovations that have been co-designed with patients and families and work shoulder-to-shoulder with organizations, providers, patients, families and Indigenous communities to improve healthcare for all Canadians. For more information visit www.cfhi-fcass.ca.

The Health Quality Council of Alberta (HQCA) is a provincial agency that pursues opportunities to improve patient safety and health service quality for Albertans. Its responsibilities are legislated through the Health Quality Council of Alberta Act. With patient and health system partners, the HQCA works to improve the quality of Alberta's health system through innovative approaches to measuring and monitoring of performance, identifying opportunities for improvement and supporting implementation of improvement initiatives.

Physiotherapy Alberta
College + Association

Physiotherapy Alberta - College + Association regulates Alberta's physiotherapy profession and acts as an association by providing member services. We provide leadership and direction to the profession and promote excellence in practice, education and research to improve the health and mobility of Albertans. Physiotherapy Alberta's main purpose is to protect the public interest by ensuring the right systems and processes are in place to support quality physiotherapy service delivery.

CARNA is the professional and regulatory body for Alberta's more than 37,000 RNs, including nurses in direct care, education, research and administration as well as nurse practitioners. Our dual mandate centers on serving the public interest: as a regulator by ensuring ethical, safe, competent care by registered nurses and, as an association, by supporting the pursuit of excellence in RN practice.
