MEDICAL LABORATORY ASSISTANT

Health informed by world-class, integrated laboratory diagnostics.

YOUR OPPORTUNITY

Precise, detail-oriented, friendly, and organized, Alberta Precision Laboratories (APL) needs people like you to join us as Medical Laboratory Assistants (MLAs).

MLAs are considered the face of the lab because of the significant patient-facing time they have performing phlebotomy. Under the supervision of pathologists, medical laboratory technologists, or combined laboratory and x-ray technologists, MLAs collect samples, process and report results, perform lab processes safely and efficiently, and ensure lab data is accurately recorded, analyzed, and communicated. MLAs may also maintain and trouble shoot equipment while following quality control guidelines as well as lab policies and procedures.

Your excellent interpersonal and customer service skills allow you to work effectively with patients and other lab professionals, providing orientation to new staff, covering reception duties, and putting patients at ease about what to expect from the lab.

WHY ALBERTA PRECISION LABORATORIES?

APL is the new, wholly-owned subsidiary of Alberta Health Services and is ready to deliver high-quality, responsive diagnostic lab services to Albertans as a part of the provincial healthcare system. With competitive salaries, opportunities for professional development, and comprehensive benefits, you can truly thrive here. Make a difference in your own community as you help healthcare professionals and patients get the information that they need to improve, optimize, or maintain health.

QUALIFICATIONS

- Completion of an accredited Medical Laboratory Assistant program or equivalent.
