

Neonatal Bilirubin collection outside of regular hours at RGH or ACH Outpatient Laboratories

Your doctor has ordered a stat bilirubin blood test on your baby, which can be collected at any Alberta Precision Laboratories Patient Service Center (PSC). Please refer to the APL website for PSC locations and hours of operation:

www.albertaprecisionlabs.ca/locations

At the PSC, line up for the reception desk and tell the laboratory staff that your doctor has ordered a stat bilirubin collection on your baby.

Outside PSC hours of operation, a special arrangement may be made by your nurse or doctor for you to proceed to one of the following hospital outpatient labs:

Park in visitor parking
Directions to the laboratory: Use the main hospital entrance and take elevators to 3rd floor. Look for a sign with directions to the lab and go to the specimen reception window, two doors to the right of the outpatient lab.	Directions to the laboratory: Use the main entrance and proceed around the Rexall Pharmacy to the lab. Look for “Laboratory” sign hanging above the door. Use phone on opposite wall to call Accession Department at local 38747.
Tell the laboratory staff this is a special arrangement for stat neonatal bilirubin collection. You will be served as soon as possible.
